FLORAL AND STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL AT MASONI TEMPLE. - This entertainment, gotten up by the Young Men's Christian Association, for the benefit of their literary and reading room, promises to be a brilliant and magnificent affair. The high character of the ladies and gentlemen interested in its success, together with their elegant taste and spirated enthusiasm, cannot fail to make it such. The services of Henry Nanz, the eminent florist, have been secured to decorate the hall. Thomas Sloan, the inimitable confectioner, is to furnish the ice cream, strawberries, and other delicacies, and Boesser's band the music. We are requested to state particularly that ice cream, strawberries, and the usual concomitants, will be sold at regu prices, and no other articles will be lady friends, a large number of whom will be in saturnalia of Saturday. A NEGRO FATALLY WOUNDED .- Our news co umns and police report record in full the score of persons were arrested for various offenses. among them Wm. Langdon, for shooting William a slave of Ed. Orutchfield.

The negro and the white man were about a house inhabited by lewd women, in the alley be son, where the negro received a ball from a pistol fired by Langdon. The ball entered the stomach inflicting probably a fatal wound. Langdon seemed so be quite sober when officer Rust first officer was taking him to prison. An investigation will not take place, of course, until the fate of the negro is more definitely known.

PORTLAND WEARF .- We learn that in construct ing the pier at Portland wharf it has been so arranged as to cause a deposit of sand and mud near the wharf, and thus prevent boats from landing. The Diana was compelled to land at Albany, not being able to reach Portland wharf, although there was nine feet of water in the remedy is for it we cannot pretend to say; but it is likely to be a serious impediment to the landing of boats, and should be attended to without delay. Yesterday evening the Mayor and Engineer visited the wharf to examine and see if any thing can be done with it.

This calculation supposes that the profits are no doubt that if the present surplus of profits

were divided as indicated, the directory could,

after the residue of the bonds are paid off, invest the profits of the city either in the stock of the

It is contended, as we think on very insufficient grounds, that it would be bad policy to divide

among the share holders the $80,000 of accumucover any depreciation in the value of the works at the expiration of the charter. It is a sufficient answer to this to show that a present surplus profit of nearly twenty-two thousand dollars would still remain undivided, and that if the business of the company continued as profitable as it now is (and we promise to show in our next article that it must of necessity be more so), the company could now pay out the extra dividend of over 16 per cent .- could annually divide 14 per ten thousand dollars each year to the account of accumulated profits. This would create a sur-olus of at least $100,000 in the ten years, and as we shall show, would make ample provision for any such contingent losses. Indeed, when we and likely so to remain, as they have ever been.

It is about twenty years since this city was sound as a dollar. They never swerve from the first lighted with gas, furnished by a company inled last January, leaving $95,000 yet in the hands corporated for that purpose by the Kentucky Legislature. By the charter, the city was authorized to subscribe for two thousand shares of the 16th inst., and adopted wholesome Democratic stock, and pay for the first one thousand shares esolutions. We hope to lay the full proceedings by issuing to the company the bonds of the city pefore our readers soon. In the meantime, we for one hundred thousand dollars, bearing 6 per the city's stock $200,000, and estimating the cent. interest, and redeemable in thirty years .-The city made the subscription and delivered the which will undoubtedly exist, being carried to the bonds, and the company organized and went into | credit of the reserve or contingent account: operation for thirty years, dating from January 1, 1839, and consequently their charter will exrire first of January, 1869. It was provided in the charter, and the provision was accepted by the individual stockholders, that the city should have the right to pay for the second one; thousand shares of stock with the excess of profits on the first thousand shares, after deducting a sufficient sum to pay the annual interest on the bonds for $100,000, issued to pay for the first half of her stock. The company continued their business with more or less difficulty with the city each year, for a number of years, until about the beginning of 1852, when affairs between the city and the company came to a dead lock. The Council, believing the city and citizens were wronged by the company, refused to pay their bills, and the latter re fusing all reforms and redress of grievances, however reasonable, the whole affair got into the courts, and after being fully heard a decree was obtained, granting to the city substantially all for which she had contended. It was believed by those well acquainted with the affairs of the company, that if the purposes and requirements of the charter were fully carried out, the objects contemplated trienne, and the ease and grace she exhibited, and when the charter was obtained would be accomher skill and daring in the management of her plished, to-wit: for the balance of the time during which the charter had to run, the city would be supplied with pure gas for all public and private lights, the private stockholders would receive semi-annually, compensation in the shape of good dividends on their shares, and at the expiration of the charter they would receive back entire the capital they had invested, and the city, by the peration of her stock, and its contemplated accumulations, would become owner of the gas works without expending any noney, but as compensation for the use of her credit, and for the advantages derived by the private stockholders, from the monopoly and exlusive right to make and sell gas in the city for thirty years. By that decision, a large sum which had accumulated in the form of surplus prof ts, was directed to be divided among the stockolders, and converted into new stock; and it was then arranged that afterwards the individual stock should not be increased, but that the city was entitled to have her profits converted into new stock, ach six months, until the balance of her two thousand shares should be paid for, and then the > clearly understand the matter, we copy the 18th ection of the company's charter, to-wit: "SEC. 18. The dividends of the city not be expended nor its stock sold ng the continuance of this charter, and after paying in full for the four hundred nousand dollars of city stock, the dividends shall be invested in profitable and safe stocks by the president and directors of the company, and the stock so purchased, and the city's stock in this ompany, shall be a fund to redeem the two hun-lred thousand dollars of city bonds, and to purhase the gas and water works at the termination of this charter; and it is made a fundamental principle and condition that the city of Louisville, f it so elect, shall be entitled to the gas and water works at the termination of the charter, at a fair estimation of what said works would cost and be worth at the time, to be ascertained by the judgment of competent engineers selected by the parties, or appointed by the Court of Chancery, i profits on her stock and the stock itself would constitute a fund to pay off the bonds issued to the ompany, and buy the gas works at the expira-ion of the charter. That our readers may more either party refuse to concur in the appointment." It is proper here to explain that the charter was granted for the erection of both gas and water works, and the city authorized to take two hundred thousand dollars of stock towards the erec tion of each, but the water works part of the char ter was abandoned, and only the subscription for the gas works made.

It will readily be seen that important city in terests are involved in carrying into effect the provisions of this section of the charter according o its true intent and meaning. It provides that the dividends of the city shall not be expended nor its stock sold during the continuance of the charter. This was intended to prevent the works from falling exclusively into the hands of individuals, and thus allowing a monopoly and clos rporation to control the price and supply of gas ights. It also provides for means, on the part of the city, to acquire the works when the charter expires, and the partnership between the city and the other share-holders is dissolved by limita

We believe it may be easily shown that a strice observance of the letter, spirit, and purposes of the charter, would result, not only in the city acquiring the gas works, by the 1st January, 1869, without the payment any considerable sum of money, but, at the same time, the private stockholders would be receiving larger dividends than they now do without, in any way, prejudicing the business of the company, or depreciating the value of the gas works. We hope, also, to be able to show that if the city now owned the gas works, with the present consumption of gas, it could be furnished to the citizens as low as $1 50, nett cash, per thousand cubic feet, and the city treasury would then gain the price now paid for lighing the street lamps, and a sum in addition sufficient to keep the works in complete repair, and make such extensions through new streets, as the wants of the citizens might require. We regard these as objects of no ordinary im portance to the corporation and citizens of Louisville, and shall endeavor to lay before our read ers the facts, remarking, in the outset, that we shall rely mainly, if not exclusively, upon official statements and information derived from the Louisville Gas Company, and will make no assertion and present no fact that is not well sustained or is of doubtful authenticity. In regard to the first point: By the books o the company it appears that on the 1st of January, 1854, the stock of the company was $431,631 33 and that the net profit for the year 1858 (including $6,000 interest on city bonds) was $50,013 82, or 11 86-100 per cent. profit on the stock. During that year they sold, by metre, 18,503,700 cubic feet of gas. Five years later, on the 1st day of January, 1859, the stock had increased to $481,400 the increase being stock issued to the city for so much of her profits), and that during the year 1858 the net profits of the company were $76,596 38 (including $6,000 interest received on city bonds), or about 15 91-100 per cent. profit on the stock. During the year 1$58 the company sold, by metre, $1,717,100 cubic feet of gas. It will be seen that although in five years, from Jan. 1, 1854, to Jan. 1, 1859, there has been an increase of atock of $59,769, yet there has been an increase in the rate of per cent. profit from 11 83-100 per cent. in 1853 to 15 91-100 per cent. in 1858, or equal to an increase of rather more than 4 per cent. per annum on the present stock of the company. The sales of gas by metre in 1858 were..... $1,717,100

It thus appears in a period of four years the profits on the stock has increased from $50,013 32 in 1853, to $76,596 38 in 1858-rather more than fifty per cent.—and equal to an increase of almost ten per cent. in the amount of profits annually This increased gain is easily accounted for by the fact that the consumption of gas is largely increased, as shown by the sales by metre in 1853 and 1858—the latter preponderating by 13,213,400 cubic feet. Assuming, as we are justified in doing, that during the next ten years the profits in the stock will exceed sixteen per cent. annually, we submit the following table to show the amount of the city's interest in the company on the first day of January, 1869, allowing all the profits over fourteen per cent. to be passed to the this city, stating that Samuel Moore killed one credit of a contingent or profit and loss account The company had on hand, January 1, 1859, of undivided profits, $101,848 48, as follows:

Twenty-two cases were disposed of, most of which | Less six per cent dividend Startling Report from the Plains. A letter dated Pacific City, Iowa, (a poin the Missouri river, opposite Plattsmoth, N. written on Monday last, the 16th, and rece in this city yesterday, reports two terrible col-lisions on the plains, in the neighborhood of O'Fallon's Bluffs, between some half starved returning Pike's Peakers and two outward bound emigrant trains, the one in charge of the well known Mr. D. C. Oaks and the other of the banker,

Mr. L. Nuckolis. Mr. L. Nuckolis.

The train of Oaks and company were most fiercely attacked by the gangs of desperate and starved emigrants, and was finally captured, and the wagons after being rifled of their contents were burned. In the fight Mr. Oaks was killed. The company under Mr. Nuckolls was also fiercely assailed and driven away from their wagons. In the melee Mr. Griffiths, the newly appointed Postmaster of Auraria, who was the on his way out to take charge of his office, fell into the hands of the desperadoes and was hung. The letter also mentions that the returning migrants are arriving at Pacific City daily by and starvation, and exceedingly desperate and enraged at the Missouri river towns for the decep-tions, which they assert, have been practised upon them.—St. Louis Democrat 28d inst.

DEATH OF DR. LARDNER .- The late news from rope brings intelligence of the death of Dr ionysius Lardner, whose name is familiar to the ublic through his works, and who will be person-ly remembered by those who made his acquain-

Dr. Lardner was born in Wexford, Ireland, on the 23d of February, 1790. An incident during his boyhood, which prevented him from indulging his boyhood, which prevented him from indulging in the usual athletic sports of which youths are generally so fond, was the means of turning his attention to literary and scientific pursuits. On his recovery he entered Trinity College, Dublin, and graduated with honors. About this time he married Miss Cecilia Flood, an Irish heiress, fr Our sole object is to see the city secured in the advantages she is entitled to by the charter, and holy orders, and was for a short period chaplain the citizens placed as speedily as possible in posto the college: but afterwards devoting to scientific pursuits, he soon dropped the "Rev." prefix to his name. ing leader on the "Departure of the French Emperor from his Capital for the Seat of War." Yesterday the Emperor of the French left his capital, to take command of his army. When these words were read by our fathers, some half century ago, every one knew there was thunder in the air, and that the boit would soon fall; they knew also that the crash of sacked cities and cries of broken armies would soon be heard. It is not or broken armies would soon be heard. It is not quite with the same certainty of havoc that we follow the flight of the tamer Eagle of the Bonaparte family. He has taken all his possessions; he has left the Empress all the functions of the regency, and has weighted them with those proper restrictions which he thinks necessary to prevent the operation of necessary to prevent the operation of amicable weakness or feminine resolution. In matters of state, in his absence, he has left her his orders and instructions to guide her, and his photograph newly taken to console her. If we look back for a precedent for an event of this courtly impertinence, we must rest upon the mag-nificent ceremonial which accompanied the de-parture of the uncle of the present Emperor, the month of May, in the famous year 1812. Then, also, an Emperor of France recommended to the protection of his people his wife and his one child, and went forward in a plentitude of magnificence, which even Napoleon III. cannot yet emulate, to take command of half a million of men in arms, and to direct the thunders of thirteen hundred guns. Even the huge armies now on foot are not the becommended with well transactions. to be compared with such tremendous armaments. Nor will there interpose between Paris and the seat of war any so magnificent a display as that which drew together half the sovereigns of Europe to do homage to the great Napoleon at Dres-den. If we recur to history, it is that the events of the last few years seem to have brought the great wars of the first Napoleon nearer to ou

Let us then consider by the light of history, the Let us then consider by the light of history, the preparations which are now being made by France and Austria for the conduct of the present war. The campaign, which began by the entry of the French troops into Piedmont, and by the passage of the Ticino by the Austrians, is on a scale which very far exceeds any former struggle in those countries.

In the long wars of the first Napoleon, the ares continually increased in number, while it is said the genius of the commander, and the prov ess of the individual soldier, diminished. The brilliant campaigns of Napoleon First were made at the head of a few thousand men. Marengo itself was gained by 28,000, while in the campaigns of Wagram, Moscow, and Leipsic, we have incomparably larger armies brought into the field on both sides. Now the war of 1859 begins on the colossal scale of the latter Empire, and the armies employed may attain dimensions such as no single State has hitherto been capable of producing. Presuming the struggle to be confined to France and Austria, and to the field of northern Italy, we shall have the spectacle of a combat in closed lists such as the world has never before witnessed. If both the antagonists fight well and stubbornly, the conflict will be as interesting to the military critic as grievous to the philanthropist. Both France and Austria will be able to march almost all their enormous forces to the seat of war.

Germany will, while the war is confined to Italy,
be sufficiently the ally of Austria to guarantee her from any attack in the rear by Russia, but not sufficiently to disturb France by any demonstra-tion on the Rhine. It may be said, for some time to come, at least, the influence of Germany will have the effect of leaving both sides free to use Il their strength against each other. That they will use it there is no doubt.

The seat of war adjoins the territory of each; railways and steamers transport their troops easily, and the long marches which enfeebled and diminished armies in the days of Napoleon, will be avoided. Enormous masses of armed men can be taken to the country they are to fight in as com-fortably as if they were merely making a change of quarters. With this facility of transport, and his power of using the whole of their great standwith soldiers for Genoa. The supply will be the only limit to the namb can thus be brought into the field. no doubt that the power which sent a qua-ter of a million of men to Sebastopol within eighteen months, will be able to send the the whole of Italy with twenty-seven million peo-ple may speedily be in insurrection, and that Sardinia has 90,000 troops of her own already, it may be reckened without exaggeration that more than 300,000 men may, in the next two months, be put in line to drive the Austrians from their carethe document of the grant of the counting the field, she does not want men, for the Empire contains hirty-three millions souls without counting the Italian provinces. If the Finance Minister can had the money to keep 300,000 men on foot in Italy, Gen. Gyueli will find work for them all. bey will got be men to fight with the spirit and ssh of Frenchmen, but they will be fine, steady roops, superior in physique to their enemies.— They will have all that science has achieved in the way of perfect weapons of destruction, and they Empire. These are the prospects of the campaign, and certainly, as far as man can divine, they romise a most obstinate contest.

The combatants are fairly matched. France, with Italy at her back, and a less impoverished exchequer, may be expected to have the superior-ity of numbers, but the Austrians, on the other nand, will probably, after their "raid" into Pied-mont, fight a defensive battle, and then they will be on ground of which they know every inch.— They will be holding their own military work, at which they have labored for forty years, and which they have declared to be masterpieces of science. If on such conditions they are not abl them. With every inducement to a desperate struggle they must be changed from what they were in the old times, if France is easily victorious r Lombardy free at once. Such considerations s being easily raised, and this is not a matter for surprise, as the lender will get 5 per cent. for his money, and payment of installments s to extend over no less than 18 months; but these twenty millions, which are to come in at the slow rate of a million a month, will be soon spent, probably before the next sixth monthly nstallment is forthcoming, and then what is to be done? Is there to be another loan extending over a further term of eighteen months, or an in all will be well, and twelve millions pounds ster-ling which the Minister of Finance says he has on hand, added to the produce of the loan, may give Nopoleon III the glory he covets at a com give Nopoleon III the glory he covers at a com-paratively cheap rate. But suppose the troops of Francis Joseph to be tougher enemies than count-ed upon, how long will the cost of aggressive war be borne cheerfully, even by the French people? As it is not the duty of Englishmen to fight for either party, so common prudence commands them to hold their purse strings when despots ask for funds for such an enterprise as the Italian

OPINION OF THE SUPREME COURT IN THE DRED SCOTT

44 No word can be found in the Constitution which gives Congress a greater power over slave property, or which entitles property of that kind to less protection than property of any other description. The only power conferred is the power coupled with the duty of GUARDING AND PROTECTING THE OWNER N HIS RIGHTS.

Besolution of the Democratic State Convention held at Frankfort, Ky., January 8th, 1859: RESOLVED, THAT WE CORDIALLY AND HEARTILY APPROVE OF THE DECISION OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES IN THE DRED SCOTT CASE.

Resolution of the Eighth Congressional Distrist Convention, at Nicholasville, May 3d, 1859 : RESOLVED, THAT WE APPIRM AND APPROVE THE DENOLUTIONS PASSED BY THE DEMOCRATIC CONVEN-TION AT FRANCISCH, ON THE STH JANUARY LAST, AND PLEDGE OCKSELVES TO THE CORDIAL SUPPORT OF ITS

Resolution of Seventh Congressional District Convention at Lagrange, May 14th, 1859 :

The Sixth District-Garrard and Adams. In the Louisville Journal, of yesterday, we find the following paragraph in relation to Mr. Garrard, the Democratic candidate for Congress, in the Sixth District:

"Mr. Garrard, the regular Democratic candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, confesses to having been an emancipationist in 1849. It would make no difference with the Demogracy if he were to confess to having been a nigger-steal-

Well, now, if Mr. Garrard confesses to have been wrong in 1849, and is right now, we see no particular harm in that. The sinner is wrong until he repents and becomes a Christian, and joins til he repents and becomes a Christian, and joins the church. No man can be blamed for being right, now, because he was wrong heretofore. It is the wrong that the sensible and good condemn, But what has the editor of the Journal to say of the Hon. Green Adams, the Know Nothing opponent of Mr. Garrard? In 1848, while Mr. Adams was in Congress, he denied the right of a Southerner to go into a Territory with his slaves He contended then, as Douglas and the rest of the squatter sovereigns do now, that slavery could not exist in a Territory without local police regulations, establishing and guarding it. He held the following language, in a speech made against the right of a slave-holder to go into a Territory of the United States with the slaves which he held in the State from which he may have migrated: "I utterly repudiate this doctrine of a man's carrying the civil institutions of his own country into whatever State, Territory, or country he may go. It is subversive of the just and necessary rules of national law, upon which the comity of nations is based Who, sir, will deny the doctrine f international law, that when a person emigrates com one country to another, or even takes up a imporary residence, that, of justice and necessi-, be must be obedient to the laws and institu ons of the country in which he is residing at the me, and from which he expects protection?' Now, the Supreme Court of the United States hold a doctrine the opposite of this squatter sovereignty heresy of Mr. Adams. The court says that slavery exists in the Territories, and that any citizen of a slave State has a lawful right to carry his slaves into a Territory, and to enjoy their services therein spite of the "laws and institutions" of a few woodnutmeg squatters. The Court not only says that a Southerner may carry his slaves into a Territory, but they say that Congress shall guard and protect him is his rights to slaves in the Terri-We leave it to the Democrats and to the Know Nothings, too, of the Sixth District, to say whether it is worse for Mr. Garrard to have been tinged with the stain of emancipation in 1849, and to be a sound pro slavery man now, or for Mr. Adams to have held in 1848 that a Southerner could not go into a Territory of the United States with his slaves, and to hold, even now, that Congress has the power to pass laws for the abolition of slavery in the Territories? It seems to us that Mr. Garrard's position is much better for a Southern statesman than that of Mr. Adams, and we doubt not that a large majority of the voters of the Sixth Congressional District will agree with

The Negro Stealing Machine.

The pegro stealing machine of our neighbor of the Louisville Democrat, is doing pretty efficient service in his squatter sovereignty cause, but it lacks much of being a perfect piece of mechanism. Its name, Non-Intervention, is well chasen, but the machine is susceptible of considerable improvement. It should be so improved as to nanulacture squatter sovereigns. How this improvement is to be made we do not know, but we suppose that a combination of the genius of we suppose that a combination of the genius of Douglas, the designer, Faran, the maker, and Barney, the user, ought to accomplish what is needed. If they can so fix up their non-intervention us to manufacture squatters ad libitum, they will have no more trouble in freeing all the negroes that they want. Such a machine, with such ad captandum name as Non-Intervention, would clear all Southerners out of the Territories in a very short time, and make wooden-nutmeg Yankees and free negroes lords of the entire public domain, acquired by the common blood and treasure of the nation. If our neighbor is resol ed, therefore, to Abolitionize all the Territories by his non-intervention machine, let him put on the improvement as soon as possible.

Protection to Slavery in the Territories. The Henderson Reporter, in its last issue thus defines its position in regard to Congressional protection to slvery in the Territories: PROTECTION TO SLAVERY .- In order to arrive at a correct conclusion in the premises the inquirer must go back to a starting point—to the Territories when exclusively the property and in the hands of Congress. Then they are the property of the United States, and by Constitutional provision are under the exclusive jurisdiction and control of Congress. They are next settled by hardy pioneers who are ever on the elect for your hardy pioneers who are ever on the alert for new locations, with the privity and consent of the Federal Government; and just so soon as their numbers will justify, a Territorial Government is organized by act of Congress, which is the Territorial Constitution, and under which a Territorial Legislature is formed whose acts should be required to conform thereto. This Territorial act should provide for the protection of all property taken to the Territory by emigrants. Slaves, being recognized as property, come within the purview of the act, and must be protected by the Federal Government, when exigencies require it, hardy pioneers who are ever on the alert for ne HEMMERS $5 EXTRA.

The American Italians on the War Question. Mr. Sechi De Casali, editor of the Echo d'Italia, an Italian paper published in New York, has written to Court Cayour to find out what the Sardintan Government would prefer having the Italians now in this country do in the present conflict between Austria and Sardinia. Count Cavour answers that he has plenty of volunteers, but that money will not be out of place. The New York Italians have therefore drawn up and published an address, advising the collecting and COUNT CAVOUR TO SECHI DE CASALI. TURIN, Feb. 16, 1859. My Dear Sin: I have received the letter addressed to me from New York, the 29th of January last, and I hasten to express my appreciation of the sentiments therein expressed, so honorable to yourself and our countrymen resident in the United States.

Italians in America:

Certainly the offer made by the Italian emi-grants there, to enter the ranks of the Sardinian army in case of war between Piedmont and Aus army in case of war between Piedmont and Austria, proves a generous disposition, and cannot but be gratifying to the Government to which such a noble offer is made. But it is well that you should know, and inform the Italians in America, that even in case of such eventualities as above alluded to, the Government is not in need of the elements whence to form good soldiers and officers for the ranks of the Sardinian army. These elements are already superabundant in Piedmont. What is really meeded is not so much military ossistance as money. While grateful, therefore, for this offer, and fully appreciating the sentiments that inspired it, the Sardinian Government does not consider it expedient that it should be accepted, there being, as above stated, already be accepted, there being, as above stated, already here a superabundance of military element. I believe that the greater part of our country ADDRESS OF THE ITALIAN COMMITTEE OF NEW YORK

TO THE ITALIAN RESIDENTS OF AMERICA. Italy is rising once more to assert her independence. The national cause represented by the State of Sardinia, supported by the Lympathy of all civilized people, and aided by France, ever the avant guard of European civilization, awakes to new life. In this crisis it is the duty of all Italians to write in strengthening the valor of the ians to unite in strengthening the valor of the Sardinian army, the hope and support of national independence.

The soldier, called to defend the rights of his country, is often obliged to leave his family without the means of subsistence, which they had received from the labor of his hands; and the image of his aged parents, his wife and children ex-posed to all the horrors of war, accompanies him to the field of battle, and presents itself like a spectre to his imagination, chilling his enthusi-asm and restraining his valor. It is manifestly the duty of all Italians, who are prevented by circumstances from taking an active part in the war, to aid those poor families, and to assure the soldier that his fellow-citizens will watch with fraternal care over the well being of his dear ones.

To this end, a Central Committee, under the control of the Sardinian Government, has been organized at Turin, with local committees in the Provinces, composed of distinguishmed members of the Parliament, Magistracy and Army, to raise funds for the support of the poor families of the Italian soldiers fighting for the independence of our country.

In connection with the Central Committee of Turin, a committee of Italians has been organized in this city to raise funds for the same object. The contributions will be received by the treasurer of the committee, Oitavio Fabbricotti, Resolved, That we indone the resolutions and proceedings of the 5th January Convention in Frankfort, and pledge to the State ticket then nominated our undivided support.

Esq. No. 54 Beaver street, who will give a receipt to each contributor. The name (unless anonymous) and the amount of each contribution will be published in the Eco D'Italia, of New York, and in the principal papers of Turin.

The funds will be forwarded to the Treasurer of the Central Committee of Turin, and his receipt, authenticated by the Sardinian authorities, will be published in the principal papers of New York City. Italians in America! The committee of New York, in laying before you the object of their organization, feel confident of your cordial co-operatton in the political and philanthropic duty of aiding the poor soldier in the care of his destitute family, while he goes to fight and to die, not only

Another Murder—A Husband Kills his Wife's Paramour.—We are again called upon to record the particulars of another tragedy which occurred lust night, between the hours of eleven and twelve, at the Telegraph House, in which Rich ard Mahone was instantly killed by a pistol shoin the hands of John W. Clawson. We relate the circumstances as given to us by a gentleman who was an eye witness to a portion of its enactment. Clawson, Mahone, and a friend named Adams, were in the above saloon standing at the counter waiting drinks, which they had or dered, when the conversation turned on music.—

Adams said to Clawson that his (Clawson's) abilities as a singer were small for a man who was pretentious. The latter replied, that he could not sing, but he could whip Adams if he would step out on the side-walk. Mahone and Adams turned, and were proceeding towards the door, when Clawson drew a pistol and fired, the ball taking effect in Mahone's back, and glancing downwards, passed almost through the lodging an inch or so above the navel. I threw up his hands and cried, "I'm shot," same time starting for the drug store of Chandler, Ross & Co., on the opposite corner. He reached the door of the store, but fell before he could cross the threshhold.

He was picked up by those who followed, and carried in and laid on a lounge, but expired in a few moments. He regained his consciourness be-fore his death, and when asked who shot him, plied in broken accents, the blood still gurgling from his mouth, "John Clawson has killed about his wife."

Clawson after the occurrence fled, but was arre ted by officers Myers and Ackley about one o'clock, together with a younger brother named William, who is also implicated in the matter.— They were both lodged in the Ninth street station

They were both lodged in the Ninth street station house to await an examination.

Clawson is a young man, not probably over twenty-four years of age. His troubles seem all to have accrued from an unfortunate marriage. Six years ago he led to the altar a young and beautiful girl of Philadelphia. The marriage was opposed by both his and her friends. The objections urged were their ages—she not yet fifteen, while he wanted three years before attaining his majority. Despite the warnings and counsels of friends, they eloped, and were married claudestinely.—Cin. Com.

THE HOOSIER MINISTER .- The European correspondent of the New Albany (Ind.) Tribune gives a good account of our Minister at Berlin, Ex-Gov-ernor Wright. The writer states that he has called on five American Ministers on his route, the pure article itself. The Governor rents a church, has a bible class with which he meets regularly, and when they have no preaching they hold class meeting. "Burleigh," (the Rev. Matthew Hale Smith) the industrious New York correspondent of the Boston Journal, asserts that the woman who was named in connection with Mr. Sickles, as at Barnum's Hotel with him, was "of much standing"—whatever that may be—"that her husband was in Court—that if the matter had been made public he would have shot Sickles on the box where he stood on trial. So, to save double bloodshed and murder, the matter was husbed up."

and murder, the matter was hushed up.' DREADFUL CASUALITY.—Yesterday morning the downward train on the C. W. & Z. R. R. ran over a drunken man in a cut a short distance above Wilmington, and tore him to pieces. His head was cut off and mashed; his entrails distributed over a space of fifty yards, his arms and legs scattered along the road bed, and the trunk mashed into pumice.—Cin. Com. yesterday.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE PROPRIE-TOR FOR THE SEASON OF 1859. THEORIO WHITESULPHUR SPRINGS are situated in Delaware county, 18 miles north from Columbus, the Capital of Ohio, on the Scioto river, 10 miles from Delaware, 5 miles from the White Sulphur Station, on the Springfield, Mt. These Springs will open for the reception of visitors ON THE 1ST DAY OF JUNE.

The improvements of 1859 have been large, enabling the proprietor to accommodate from five to six hundred the pecuniary interest of those who have paid that others shall not do so; yet they do desire that all may do so even yet, and share to the fullest extent in the benefits of the late compromise and future advantage to be derived from this enterprise. guests. Among these improvements may be mentione a large and elegant hotel, new cottage rows, additions buildings for amusement and recreation, extensive bath houses, a steam laundry, &c., &c. THE WHITE SULPHUR is a beautiful Artesian fountain, situated near the rocky bank of the Scioto river. At the depth of 160 feet be iow the level of the Scioto, flows the remarkable stream of sulphur water which supplies this Spring. As a delightful resort during the summer months, the Ohio White Sulphur Springs have no rival in the West, and but few in the United States. The location is peculiarly healthy; the Scoto here is a rapid, rocky stream; the "Cliff Limestone," a formation hundreds of feet in thickness, through which the river cuts its way, 's everywhere either at or near the surface; the grounds of the estate are beautifully undulated, and interspered with numerous ravines which carry off all the superfluous water, thus rendering the soil dry and the atmosphere free from that hundidty so prejudical to health these irreumstances, taken in connection with the altitude of he place, about 1,000 feet above the level of the ocean, make the locality as free from malarious influences as a mountain region.
